Soccer has always been a love and passion in my life. My number one goal has always been to develop my game to a level where I can obtain a full scholarship to a recognized American university, and from there hopefully have an opportunity to enter the professional league.

I am a very focused and disciplined individual who at all times gives 100% effort. These personal attributes, I take to the soccer field and coupled with my speed, accuracy in shooting and crossing the ball as well as having a great vision of the field at all times, I believe, gives me that 'little' advantage over many players.
